DOCUSIN AWARENESS RESISTANCE EDUCATION

Just say no!

NOT ALL E-SIGNATURE VENDORS ARE THE SAME.

Does your current eSignature provider understand the "ins and outs" of the daily operations, regulations, and needs of your financial institution? Are you frustrated trying to fit into the one-size-fits-all approach of mass market vendors like DocuSin? Tired of excessive charges and workarounds to make the software fit your process?

You're not alone.

Kinective considers you our friend in the Financial Services industry, and for that reason we refuse to allow you to continue down this dark path of DocuSin turmoil. Friends don't let friends use DocuSin.

If you're seeking out help, Kinective is here.

The Other Guys

Pricing Structure	Per envelope or per package pricing with unexpected overage and penalty fees.	Flat subscription fee for institutions based on asset size, promoting scaling, adoption, and digital transformation.
Fees	Overuse incurs penalties; extra volumes are pricier after prepaid envelopes run out.	No penalty fees. Subscription provides for unlimited annual transactions that can be generated by an unrestricted number of users.
Ease of Use	Manual document setup increasing the risk of human error.	Automatically prepares documents; no need for employees to tag or set-up the documents.
Domain Expertise	One size fits all approach which forces FIs to fit into the structure of a solution that serves a plethora of industries.	Tailored for FIs, accommodating core systems, lending, and imaging. Supports usability, integration, and archiving.
Archival	Unreliable and inconsistent audit trails that require a set-up and implementation fee.	Signed documents and audit trails are indexed and sent to your imaging/ECM solution as an included feature of the product.
Customer Service	Subpar customer service that is difficult to reach and has an overall lack of knowledge about the financial industry.	Personalized Client Experience Manager ensures prompt expert advice and support for each client.
