

Kinective Bridge

a Digital Connectivity product

99%

of US cores supported

35M+

API requests per year

Seamless connectivity between loan origination systems and core/servicing platforms. Perfect for Consumer, Commercial, and Mortgage lending, Kinective Bridge (formerly OmniConnect) streamlines the entry of detailed data once in one system that is utilized across multiple systems, eliminating data re-entry errors, increasing productivity, and reducing processing cost.

Bridge's secure cloud-based (AWS) connectivity technology allows the loan boarding process to be fully automated, configured to your institution's specific business rules and financial controls.

Benefits

All major core / servicing and LOS solutions supported

Streamline workflow and improve processes

Dedicated Client Care team based in the US

Eliminates after-boarding maintenance due to errors caused by rekeying the data

Advanced AWS cloud-hosted solutions available without an on-premise server needed

Over 2,000 customers nationwide

But that's not all. More Bridge solutions:

General Ledger (GL) Connectivity

Balance Bridge (formerly General Ledger Connector Solutions for Accounting and Loan Operations) generate entries from loan data in the loan origination system and send them to your general ledger system. Two options give the financial institution the ability to choose the solution that fits their business needs and regulations.

Quick Bridge

Works in conjunction with Lending Bridge to provide 100% automation between the loan origination system and the core/servicing system, for all exception-free loans.

Test Environment Services

Provides a separate environment to execute change management controls that comply with FFIEC recommendations without risk or disruption to the live environment. After the quality assurance testing is complete, all the files/changes can be moved from the test environment to the production environment.

Why Kinective?

Reliability

With over 25 years of experience, our solutions are built to the highest standards and can endure the test of time.

Technology

We build and implement the most cutting-edge cloud-based technology in the industry. We set the standard for connectivity and automation.

Dedication

Throughout the lifetime of the solution, we are committed to making your connectivity trouble non-existent.

“Kinective Bridge is an innovative proposition in the market. We've seen some similar initiatives from providers in the integration API space, but none like Kinective who specialize in financial institution connectivity that is attainable to the smaller community bank market.”

Laura Wahl | Director of Strategic Partnerships, Abrigo
