A UNIVERSAL INTEGRATION

Drive modern banking experiences through software that integrates core banking systems with foundational branch technology, including cash recyclers, self-service kiosks, and portable transaction interfaces.

AN ENTERPRISE ARCHITECTURE

An enterprise server that works with all types of IT infrastructures gives you centralized deployment and management of all your cash handling devices. No more dependence on individual workstations.

CHOICE OF TECHNOLOGY

CFM is not tied to any hardware agenda and all development is driven by market needs. All major hardware models are supported, giving you maximum efficiency and true choice in deployment options.

We have seen numerous improvements thanks to CFM. Both our front-line and support staff have benefited in terms of improving efficiencies and eliminating disruptions. We've improved our service level and can better serve our customers. I have said it before, but we give CFM two thumbs up.

A SUITE OF PRODUCTS AND SOLUTIONS BUILT FOR FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

Improve teller efficiency by reducing manual tasks and automating balancing through a real-time integration between cash handling hardware and core processing software.

Named Fintech Product of the Year, RTA lets associates securely and remotely process transactions to cash handling hardware from any workstation in the branch.

A business intelligence tool that provides visibility into how your cash automation fleet is being used and performing.

A core-integrated, portable transaction interface that allows all associates to break free from the workstation and teller lines and provide clients with a concierge-like, advisory experience from anywhere in the branch.

A universal kiosk integration that offers self, assisted, and full-service capabilities for complete transaction sets and client convenience.

"CFM is a solution that addresses all of my needs. I like the fact I can have one software that integrates with all the models and manufacturers so I can be free to buy any hardware I want to."
